Update and comment meetings on the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study scheduled for Saint Joseph and Bismarck

OMAHA – Presentations on the findings and recommendations from the focus group and tribal meetings in support of the Missouri River Authorized Purposes Study are being sponsored by the Army Corps of Engineers in March.

The first will be in St. Joseph, Mo., on Monday, Mar. 8 at Missouri Western State University, Fulkerson Center, 4525 Downs Drive. The second will be in Bismarck, N.D., on Wednesday, Mar. 10 at the Kelly Inn, 1800 North 12th Street. Both meetings start at 5:30 p.m.

An independent facilitator will conduct the meetings which consist of two parts. First will be a presentation on the findings and recommendations that came out of the focus group and tribal meetings. Following the presentation, the public will be asked for comments.

The second part will be a presentation on the next steps in the study and how the Corps will incorporate the results of the assessment and conduct the scoping of the study itself. This presentation will also be followed by an opportunity for members of the public to comment on the study and how the Corps will conduct it.

These two meetings are not the formal scoping meetings that will define the size and shape of the authorized purposes study. Those will be conducted later this summer. Advance notice of the dates and sites will be announced later in the spring.

The Army Corps of Engineers has been directed by Congress to conduct a review of the original purposes established by the 1944 Flood Control Act. The goal of the multi-year study is to determine if changes in the eight purposes are warranted. These purposes are flood control, hydropower, water supply, irrigation, navigation, recreation, water quality and fish and wildlife. Infrastructure operated by both the Corps and Bureau of Reclamation is included in the study.
